

Provisional map of open country and registered common land in South West England

The Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 will create new rights to walk on 'access land' – generally mountain, moor, heath, down and registered common land. The Countryside Agency is required to produce maps of registered common land and open country in preparation for the introduction of the new public access rights.

The provisional map for South West England was issued on 4 March 2004. It includes changes (which may be additions, deletions or re-categorisations) to the areas shown as registered common land and open country on the draft map issued by the Agency for consultation between 13 May 2003 and 13 August 2003.

The electronic provisional map at a larger scale may be viewed at our London, Cheltenham, Bristol or Manchester offices - phone the helpline for an appointment.

A reduced scale provisional map will be available for inspection at:

- selected regional offices - phone the helpline for an appointment
- local authority offices • selected public libraries
- our website www.countryside.gov.uk/access/mapping

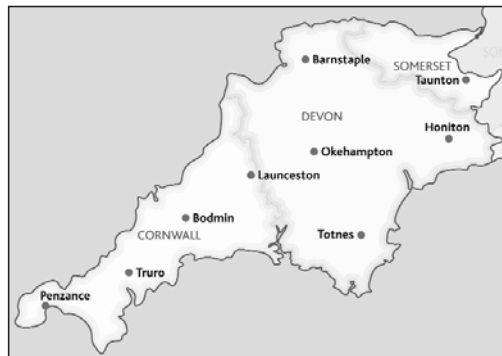

Appeals against the provisional map

Anyone with a legal interest in the land (e.g. a landowner, tenant, or the holder of sporting or common rights) may appeal against it being shown as registered common land or open country on the provisional map.

How to appeal

Appeals must be made to the Secretary of State on one of the following grounds:

- 1) where land is mapped as registered common land, that it is not registered common land.
- 2) where land is mapped as open country that:
 - (i) it does not consist wholly or predominantly of mountain, moor, heath or down: and
 - (ii) where the Agency has exercised its discretion under the Act, to treat land which is not open country as forming part of an area of open country, it ought not to have done so.
