

Have your say

The Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 will create new rights to walk on 'access land' – generally mountain, moor, heath, down and registered common land. The Countryside Agency is producing maps which show where you will be able to walk.

The draft map for west England was issued on 30 June 2003 and is available to comment on until 30 September 2003.

See the maps and comment on them:

- at one of our roadshows (see below)
- at selected Countryside Agency regional offices (by appointment via our helpline)
- at selected public libraries and local authorities
- on our website and you can comment online.

Local maps will also be sent to parish councils.

The Countryside Agency invites you to comment on the draft map to ensure it is an accurate reflection of what is on the ground. We need to receive your comments in writing by midnight on 30 September 2003 and you must give your name and postal address; identify the area of land you are referring to; and state whether you have a legal interest in the land to which your comment relates. The electronic draft map is available at selected Countryside Agency regional offices and at a reduced scale at all other locations detailed above.
